Report Title	Wastewater Overflow CIP Education Programme update

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A workshop with Community Board/Committee “champions” was held on 11 October 2017 at Waikato District Council. The workshop discussed the roll out of the Wastewater Overflow CIP Education Programme to the rest of the district.

This report updates each of the Council’s Community Boards and Community Committees with what has been happening in the public education programme and what the next steps are.

At the workshop there was representation from the Onewhero-Tuakau Community Board, Te Kauwhata Community Committee, Huntly Community Board, Taupiri Community Board and the Ngaruawahia Community Board along with Councillors Main and Thomson.

Council staff hope that these champions can now be the point of contact between Council and each of the communities regarding wastewater education.

Speaking at the workshop, Councillor Thomson indicated that the wastewater education programme is one of the biggest ways Council and the community can work together to reduce the number of overflows across the district.

She highlighted that 81% of overflows are caused by blockages – people putting stuff down the loo and kitchen sink that just shouldn’t be there.

The solution is simple - education. Changing behaviour, especially when it comes to people’s toilet behaviour, won’t be easy but preventing what is put down the loo other than the ‘3 Ps’ (pee, poo and paper) will go a long way to reducing the overflows that do happen. The remaining overflows are caused by the network which is being improved under the Continuous Improvement Programme (CIP).

Under the CIP, the wastewater education programme has a budget of $100,000 per year. This will be spent on collateral (posters, stickers, fridge magnets – the list is endless), education in schools, advertising and some additional staffing to manage these activities.

The campaign is currently active in Raglan and a roll out to the rest of the district will start early 2018. Buy-in from each of the Community Boards and Community Committees is important to ensure the success of the programme.

Those who attended the workshop were happy to have the same 'look and feel' as what is being used in Raglan. Examples such as posters and cistern stickers are attached to this report.

The next steps for Community Boards and Committees include completing the "collateral wish list" which is also attached. This will identify what material each board and committee want for their community, for example posters, banners, fliers, or stickers. Help is also needed to identify where material should go i.e. public toilets, plumbing businesses, real estate agents, cafes etc (and how many).

Update on Raglan campaign

Cr Thomson and the Raglan Community Board held a stall over the Labour weekend and shared the wastewater education messaging with visitors and locals.

A "residents pack" will be distributed to all Raglan residents before Christmas which will include a '3 P's' and a 'Think at the Sink' flier, a 'Think at the Sink' fridge magnet and a '3 P's' toilet sticker. A letter will also be included that explains the campaign messaging and the importance of everyone getting on board. If successful, this will be rolled out to the other townships next year, as budget allows.

Posters and poster holders, fliers and brochures will be distributed to public toilets, businesses and accommodation providers before the end of summer.

2. RECOMMENDATION

THAT the report on the wastewater education programme be received and the collateral 'wish list' be completed by each Community Board and Community Committee and returned to Teresa Hancock in the WDC Communications Team.

3. ATTACHMENTS

Examples of collateral

3 P's poster

3 P's cistern sticker

Ponder on the porcelain and think at the sink

You don't need to engage your brain much to go to the toilet or do the washing up.

But Waikato District Council is asking its residents and ratepayers to do exactly that as it embarks on a public education programme all about wastewater.

Wastewater is the water that is disposed of into sewer pipes from homes and business. It comes from toilets, sinks, showers, washing machines and industrial activities.

Council is currently running its Wastewater Overflow Continual Improvement Programme which is an extensive package of work that involves a series of projects that will improve its wastewater infrastructure.

One of the more surprising statistics that the community may not be aware of is that a staggering 80% of wastewater overflows in the Waikato district from 2014 to 2016 were caused by blockages.

Wipes and nappies that are flushed down the toilet contribute towards many blockages in wastewater pipes.

There are two main causes of these blockages:

- Foreign objects such as wipes, clothing, sanitary pads and nappies being flushed down toilets.

- And grease, oil and food scraps being poured down the kitchen sink.

Sewer pipes are generally only 15-20cm in diameter and clearly not designed to carry objects like wipes, nappies and sanitary pads.

If cooking oil or grease from cooking meat is poured down the sink, it solidifies as it cools into a disgusting mass of congealed fat, (sometimes referred to as fatbergs).

As this is happening, foreign objects like wipes get stuck on to the lumps of fat and that causes the lumps of fats to grow, eventually blocking a pipe and causing a spillage of raw sewage on to land or into our waterways.

While Council staff are busy improving the state of our wastewater pipes, the community can play its part in reducing the number of sewage spillages.

And it really is quite simple. Only flush the three P's down the loo – pees, paper (of the toilet variety) and poo.

Dispose of things like wipes, nappies and sanitary pads in the rubbish bin.

And we should also pull the plug on pouring oil, cooking fats or food scraps down the kitchen sink.

You can soak up leftover oil with paper towels or let grease from cooking meat solidify in a container and put them in the bin.

Basically the message in the kitchen is – don't forget you oughta, pour nothing but water down the drain.

Sewage spillages damage our precious environment. They also cost everyone money.

If Council's operational goals of improving our wastewater network can be combined with the community's efforts in the bathrooms and kitchens of their own homes, it's a win-win for the people of Waikato district and the environment that we live in and hold so dear.

Report Title	Joint Community Board and Community Committee December Meeting

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We have been running joint Community Board and Community Committee sessions with Council now for over a year. The purpose of these sessions was to enable Council to keep the respective community representatives informed of key issues, and to enable a sharing of views and ideas among community representatives. The feedback we have received so far has been positive and that those that do attend are enjoying them.

Although it is appreciated that time is precious leading up to Christmas, Council would like to host all Community Board and Community Committee representatives at one last joint meeting prior to the end of the year. Council will hopefully have completed its detailed Long Term Plan budget deliberations by 15 December and hence would like to share the results of this with you, and to celebrate the end of another challenging year.

In lieu of the above, it is suggested that Community Boards and Community Committees might reconsider whether they have a meeting in December and attend the joint session instead. We appreciate you will need to be cognisant of any key decisions required in December, to enable this to work. This would also provide some relief from preparing December agendas etc.

If Community Boards and Community Committees are in agreement to meet jointly, this meeting could be held in Ngaruawahia on Tuesday, 19 December 2017 at 6.00pm.

It is recommended that unless there are pressing matters for Community Boards and Community Committees to attend to at their December meetings, they agree to not meet as planned, but attend a joint meeting instead.

2. RECOMMENDATION

THAT the report from the General Manager Strategy & Support be received;

AND THAT the Pokeno Community Committee agrees to support the joint meeting of Community Boards and Community Committees on Tuesday, 19 December;

AND FURTHER THAT the Pokeno Community Committee supports not having an individual meeting in December.

This has been logged as a service request and will be considered with other priorities in the district. 3. Reserve/Parks Improvements - Dog run/park - Skateboard park - improvements to be made bigger (similar to what is in Ngaruawahia) - BMX track - council land North of Taupiri on Gt South Rd, on riverside of road. - Public parking - Make reserve and parks more secure (so motorbike cannot access)		Dog run/park - There is already a designated off lead exercise area in Taupiri - Bob Byrne Park. Need to develop a Dog Park strategy (potentially as part of parks strategy - use of rubbish land). If an additional park was required, public consultation would need to occur. If a request was made to fence this park, additional funding would need to be allocated. As this park is rarely used by dogs, it may be more appropriate to fund other projects and direct dog owners in this area to either Ngaruawahia or Huntly fenced parks. The current skatepark meets the criteria as per the Playgrond Strategy. Council does not develop BMX tracks in the district. They tracks are developed and maintained by the BMX clubs.
